Gleichen's Grain Record Briefly

It is more than twenty years since grain was first raised in the Gleichen district and from that day to this a complete crop failure has never occurred.

In the year 1906 without irrigation the Gleichen district had the highest average yield of wheat and oats in Alberta.

In 1907, which was a very poor year throughout the entire west, Mr. John McEwen of Gleichen had about the only No. 1 oats in Alberta and the same man grew barley that went 97 bushels to the acre, while numerous farmers south of this town at Queenstown had No. 1 flax, all without irrigation.

In 1908 Messrs. John Buckley and J. R. Allgood up-to-date have shipped from Gleichen the best spring wheat to reach Winnipeg—the market centre of the great west so far as grain is concerned. This wheat was graded a little better than No. 1 and the owners got the highest price paid this year in Winnipeg—$1.03 per bushel.

The foregoing facts are well worth remembering and every man interested in this district might paste them in his hat for ready use.

ANOTHER FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETING

The second meeting of the Farmers' Institute held last Saturday afternoon was not so well attended as the first, but nevertheless was very interesting and instructive.

The President opened the proceedings and called upon Mr. J. R. Allgood as the first speaker.

Mr. Allgood said he was somewhat surprised so were a few in attendance, but believed the few should do their duty. Farming without irrigation was something entirely new to him for he knew of no other way until he came here. From a small boy he had never seen anyone attempt to farm without it and it was rather a novelty to see it here. He had been used to covering the land three times each year with water and if it was not done he did not expect to get a crop. It might look like a lot of hard work here, but it had to be done. He said irrigation not only an insurance but it was the most scientific way of farming. However, by what he had seen here it was very evident irrigation was not needed for wheat if all the years were the same as the last three. But for vegetables, alfalfa and hay irrigation would easily pay the insurance charges. This year the difference between irrigated and non irrigated potatoes was from one third to one-half with proper care. He was satisfied his own potatoes would have yielded from 400 to 500 bushels to the acre. Irrigation makes a better, drier and better flavored potato. He believed that water carried elements of plant life on to the land that was greatly needed, and in sage brush country the water killed the sage. The speaker gave an interesting talk on growing alfalfa, which he said should be used as a rotating crop. It had been proven that alfalfa contained as much protein as bran and it put fat on stock as well as hay and grain could do it in Alberta. Alfalfa, he said, is the king of forage plants and it is the cheapest fertilizer. Sugar beets do well after alfalfa.

Mr. Renaud did not believe he should have been asked to make a speech. Irrigation was new to him, but he knew a little about dry farming. He thought irrigation a splendid thing for small crops and vegetables, but feared it too expensive for large areas and labor was not easy to get here. His farming had been on land that could not be irrigated very well except eight or ten acres and he was well satisfied with the crops he had got and had been raising grain for 12 or 14 years. He was a thorough believer in good cultivation and was trying the Campbell system of farming this fall and believed it would turn out well next year. He could not say yet of course much about it, but he gave a brief sketch of how he was working out the system. Returning to irrigation again he said he feared that too much water would make the straw in grain grow too long and keep it growing when it should be ripening.

Mr. Frank Daw said everyone knew he was not in the habit of making speeches, but he had many years experience in the Gleichen district. He had ranched, then farmed and was now trying irrigation. He was aware good crops could be raised here without irrigation or he raised them and said good crops had always been raised when the work was done properly. Fall wheat he had observed had a very poor chance when planted on spring breaking. He believed that late irrigation was a good thing for all wheat as it kept the moisture in the ground all winter. In planting spring wheat some were afraid, but it should be put in very early in the spring in order to get an early start. In this way he had raised 60 bushels of No. 1 to the acre. Mr. Daw in his remarks answered many questions asked by his audience. He had good crops of oats off breaking. Barley needs a lot of moisture. From three and a half acres he had got 150 bushels of spring wheat. He thought farmers here should keep all kinds of stock. He started with the best beef stock, but now should go more in for dairy breeds. He thought it suggested a week ago by Mr. Trego the farmers might help the implement dealers by telling them of the repairs and machinery they might need and the dealers might help in return by bringing down prices. Another thing he added in closing was that an effort should be made to keep the fences along the roads in better repair as it was a detriment to men driving stock along the roads as well as to the crops.

Mr. Bollinger being called upon said he was not prepared to make a speech, but would like to refer to alfalfa and irrigation. He said last fall by a mistake the irrigation company allowed water to run on to some of his alfalfa and he noticed that where the water touched his alfalfa done well, but where the water did not reach it the alfalfa was winter killed. He thought from this instance all might learn something.

Mr. Buckley did not think he had very much information to give out. But in The Call all had read of the results of his spring wheat, which was a big thing for him. However, he did not claim any credit for himself as he only came here the year before last and had never tried to farm before so that the credit belonged to the good advice his neighbors had given him and the fertility of his land.

Mr. Roneche claimed he was no speaker, but he could say he had splendid results from this year's crops and was well satisfied with farming in this district. He had oats this year that ran 85 bushels to the acre and wheat that went over 38 bushels. He also gave some valuable information of his experience.

By this time it was getting quite dark and the gathering which had considerably increased dispersed.

A GREENHORN GREW BETTER THAN NO. 1

The statement made in the last Call that the two ears of spring wheat shipped by Messrs. Jno. Buckley and J. R. Allgood was graded a little better than No. 1 at Winnipeg and that they got $1.03 and $1.025 respectively per bushel, making the highest paid in that city this season, was received with much interest by them and their friends. The fact is The Call did not anticipate anything like the demand made for extra papers, although we usually print a good number over our paid circulation.

A rather striking coincidence in last issue with this was that on the same page Mr. Buckley was quoted as saying at the Farmers' Institute meeting that "he was not a farmer, nor did he claim to be even a practical man, but by following the advice of his neighbors he had succeeded in growing some excellent crops."

When Mr. Buckley called at this office he said: "I really believe farming here pays as well as gold mining in the Klondike. That is if we worked as hard as the miners do up there, it would, and is more lasting. I do not take any credit to myself. Our soil deserves the credit and my kind neighbors, who gave me such excellent advice. However, I believe I could now do even better as I have learned since I put in that crop of wheat. It was put in on stubble, and I'll admit that style of farming did not suit me at the time. But the mistake I made was harrowing the land the same way as it was sown, and a lot of seed was pulled out of the ground—it should have been harrowed across. I think we should tell of our mistakes as well as our success. Now I want a dozen and a half Calls to send to my friends in old Ireland just to show them what a greenhorn can do around Gleichen. Why, no, I would not go back to Ireland to live permanently. This is the best country I ever heard of and suits me very well indeed."

Mr. Allgood is of rather a more quiet disposition than our Irish friend, but admitted he was pleased with the results of his crops this year and would send a few copies of The Call to his friends in Idaho. It might be well here to state that Mr. Allgood has been instrumental in bringing many of our best farmers to this district.

A Ranchers Advice to Homesteaders and Landseekers

Land, land, land, 160 acres free grant of land in the Canadian north west, to every able bodied head of a family. Scratch the ground and a fortune awaits you. Never mind a gravel hill, there is your building material. Take up a cut bank, level it off and show your children what you did. Avoid stopping places when land prospecting, and call on a ranch for your meals, expect him to feed you free, though they always charged for meals down east or down south or wherever you came from. When passing through a place leave all gates open, they obstruct settlement. If a rancher offers advice, don't heed him. If he tells you any of his experiences, call him a liar. If he tells you the land you wish to see is poor, go and obtain entry on it at once and put your friends on to it. If you don't get good crops the first few years, plow deeper and cultivate more, you will soon change the climate. When settling in a stock district, take two or three colles with you or a shot gun and rock salt, the ranchers eat salt beef. Put one barbed wire on your fences and leave it slack. Sue for damages if your sugar beets are injured and if any horses are out tell the owners to keep them in the barn. Do not expect to live on rabbits in a prairie country. If you give the hired man a club to hunt his dinner with, he will not get back in time to do the chores. If the seasons really should turn dry again get the C. P. R. to put you in a ditch and stay with it until the seasons change, then get to hell out of there or you might get wet.

OLD TIMER.

W. J. Owen, one of Strathmore's leading merchants, died at that place on Sunday last after a brief illness and on Monday his remains were taken to Red Deer to be entered beside his wife. This sad intelligence has brought the deepest sorrow to the friends of the deceased throughout the entire district, where he was well known and highly respected by everyone. Deceased was the senior partner of the firm carrying on a general store business at Strathmore, which will be continued by his son Percy Owen. They have just completed their new store building which is said to be the finest in that town. The deepest sympathy is expressed with deceased's relatives in their great sorrow.

Gleichen produced the best wheat to reach the Peg this year.

Alberta Yield of Grain is Over 19 Millions

The Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Alberta has sent The Call the following crop estimate with his compliments:

At the request of numerous parties for an estimate of the out turn of this year's crop an estimate has been made upon a report of the crop correspondents after threshing operations had been underway, and upon a partial report of the threshers.

It would appear that the acreage devoted to spring wheat was not quite so large as the estimate made in June, nor is the yield proving quite as high as was anticipated in early July. It is estimated there were 151,487 acres of spring wheat and that the yield will be 2,844,600 bushels, or an average of 18 41 bushels per acre.

The Best Crop on Record

The present estimate shows that the acreage of winter wheat harvested is nearly 10,000 acres over the July estimate, that is 104,330 acres, giving a yield of 2,397,558 bushels, or an average yield of 22.98 bushels per acre, but the general average of the province is greatly reduced by other districts not showing such high averages.

Individual yields of winter wheat show that where the land was properly cultivated probably the highest yields ever obtained in the province were obtained this year. Numerous instances show that over 70 bushels per acre have been obtained. This only shows what can be done by proper methods of cultivation and brings out in striking contrast the low yields where poor methods of cultivation prevail.

The estimated acreage of oats is 400-702, with a yield of 12,058,600 bushels, or an average yield of 30 09 bushels per acre. The yield in a number of districts was materially reduced through continued rain and later unfavorable weather, so that in some portions of the province the yield of oats is not nearly up to the average. Other districts again report one of the best crops
of oats grown in years.

The estimated acreage of barley is 73,086, with a total yield of 1,442,065 bushels, or an average of 19.73 bushels per acre, while the average for the province for the ten years has been in the neighborhood of 27 bushels per acre. It will thus be seen that this year has been a decided off one for barley.

The season has proved an unfavorable one for flax, the estimate being 8046 acres of flax with a total yield of 62,981 bushels, or an average of 7.82 per acre. This is the lowest estimate ever made for flax
in the province.

The yield of grain in 1908, despite the most excellent prospects in the early summer, has not given anything like as favorable an out-turn as was fondly hoped in view of the unfortunate loss of crop of the previous season. The only exception to this general statement is that of winter wheat, which this year has given the best crop on record.

The following is a summary of the acres and yields in tabular form:

	Acreage.	Yield.	Avg.
Spring wheat	151,487	2,844,600	18.41
Winter wheat	104,330	2,397,558	22.98
Oats	400,702	12,058,600	30.09
Barley	73,086	1,442,065	19.73
Flax	8,046	62,981	7.82

Have you asked any man yet to run for the Council next year? This is the only way to get the best men.

The election on Dec. 4th of officers and directors for the Agricultural Association promises to be an interesting one. The gentlemen who have been speaking at the Farmers' Institute meetings should be among those elected.

It is said diamonds will explode under certain conditions. However, The Call will still take a few of them on subscription account.

In Kentucky a distillery is selling a tablet that creates the same effect as whiskey. It looks like candy and is used in towns where prohibition has driven the fluid disturbance out of the the market.

It is worthy of note that the average yield per acre in Alberta exceeds that of either Manitoba or Saskatchewan.

The Call certainly has some friends.
Two hours after this became a prohibition town and the first we heard of it a friend called at this office to relieve the situation and others were around soon after.

The regular meetings of the Gleichen and District Board of Trade are held the second Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m.

in Horseflesh.

Many people, even among those who frequently make use of horses, have little idea what an ordinary horse weighs and would have much difficulty to guess whether a given animal standing before their eyes weighed 500 or 1,500 pounds. Yet they would have no such difficulty with a man and probably be able to guess, especially if they were good Yankees, within ten or twenty pounds of his weight. The governments of Europe have long been purchasing and weighing horses for the military service and transferring them from carriage or draft employment to the various branches of cavalry and artillery. The animals are ordinarily assigned according to weight. The French military authorities find that an ordinary light carriage or riding horse, such as in the United States would be called a "good little buggy horse," weighs from 300 to 400 kilograms—say from 800 to 900 pounds. Such horses as these are assigned to the light cavalry corps. The next grade above, which in civil life passes as a "coupe horse," or carriage horse of medium weight, ranges in weight up to 480 kilograms, about 1,050 pounds. This horse goes to help mount the cavalry of the line.

Next come the fashionable "coach horses" of persons of luxury, which weigh from 500 to 580 kilograms, or from 1,100 to nearly 1,300 pounds. These horses go to serve the purpose of drill for the cavalry belonging to the reserve military forces. Above these there are still two grades of heavy horses. The first are those used for ordinary draft purposes and are commonly found drawing the omnibuses of Paris where such vehicles are still in use. These weigh from 1,100 to 1,500 pounds. The heaviest horses are the Clydesdales and Percherons, which are oxen in size and strength and which weigh from 900 to 800 and sometimes even up to 900 kilograms—that is, from 1,300 up to nearly 2,000 pounds. None of these Percherons of the heaviest weight are used in the military service, but some of the lighter ones are employed for draft and artillery purposes.

AIDED HER RIVAL.Romance of a London Society Leader and a Diamond Necklace.

The Jewellers of Bond street could if they liked tell many an amazing story. There is no need to dilate on the fascination which scintillating gems exercise upon the feminine mind. That fascination is a fact and may serve to explain a mortal enmity which existed recently and probably still exists between two well known society leaders. To one of them a highly placed admirer mentioned his intention to purchase a diamond necklace. Knowing that the lady possessed more than a superficial knowledge of the value of stones, he begged her to select for him what he required. The price he was prepared to give was £1,500. The lady jumped to the conclusion that such a request could have but one meaning—viz, that she herself was to be the eventual recipient of the gift. She thereupon visited the jeweller's shop and inspected his stock, but at the price she was empowered to give saw nothing that particularly took her fancy. A fascinating piece of workmanship, however, did attract her, the price of which was 3,000 guineas. The desire to possess it became irresistible. She arranged with the jeweller to send the necklace to the purchaser and invoice it to him at the agreed upon price, while she gave her own check for the balance. Then she went home and awaited the arrival of the gift. Some days passed, but there was no appearance of the necklace. A horrible doubt which assailed her became certainty a day or two later when she saw the identical necklace she had helped to pay for sparkling on the neck of a younger and more beautiful rival.—Grand Magazine.

His Harmless Candidate.

A Georgia farmer posted this sign on his front gate:

"Candidates Will Pass On. No Time to Talk to 'Em."

One morning his little boy shouted from the garden walk:

"There's one o' them candidates here, and he says he'll come in any-how!"

The man looked toward the gate and said:

"Let him in. There's no harm in him. I know him. He's been runnin' ever since the war, jest to be a runnin'."

It runs in his blood, an' he can't help it!"

Explanations in Order.

A man whose wife was extremely jealous planned a pleasant surprise for her in the form of a trip to New York to see "The Merry Widow" and wrote a friend in the city to let him know the earliest date for which he could secure seats. The next day when he was away from home the following telegram was delivered there, addressed to him, but opened by his wife:

"Nothing doing with the widow until the 10th. Will that suit you?"

Explanations were demanded.

As to a Courtship.

"He's telling everybody that she is his first love."

"And she?"

"She is confiding to a select few that he is her last chance."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Only four weeks to Christmas.

See Yates' big line of Xmas cards.

A dance will be given in the Foresters Friday, Dec. 4th.

The warm weather continues, but is a little colder at nights.

Mrs. Gibson of Blue Spring ranch has gone to Wilkie, Sask., to visit her sister.

Think of it. Preparing for Christmas and the only snow in sight is on the distant peaks of the Rocky Mountains.

Dr. Farquharson has located at E. Griesbach residence on Gleichen street until the new Larkin block is ready.

Burnt wood outfits at Post Office Drug Store.

Messrs. Anderson & Neilson, have their new residence practically completed.

Mrs. Urch and Miss McArthur spent from Friday until Monday with friends at Calgary.

T. B. Henderson has made numerous improvements to his block east of The Call office and is now completing a new table.

Mr. McPhee is building a new residence on the corner of Gleichen street and Sixth avenue and already is putting the roof on.

D. B. McNeil left Tuesday evening for his home in Vancouver, after spending two weeks visiting his friends here and at Calgary.

H. M. McKie has purchased from D. B. McNeil the building and lot on Crowfoot street now used by N. Mathieson as a barber shop.

They are just too lovely for anything. What is? Why, haven't you seen the Christmas goods Yates is opening up? Let us go and get first choice.

J. A. McDonald has been duly appointed C. P. R. agent at Gleichen, much to the satisfaction of every person in town. Mack is a good man for the position, ever courteous and obliging.

The bricklayers were busy all week on the new school house and with a few days more fine weather will complete the brick work. And yet some one once reported this to be a very cold country.

The Larkin Block has every appearance of being completed this week, and already Mr. Larkin is considering the advisability of adding an addition. As it is, this is one of the largest and most handsome structures in town.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Harrison left on No. 1 Tuesday for Calgary, where Mr. Harrison will probably enter the hospital for a time. He has been ailing all summer and it is hoped a stay in the hospital will materially benefit him.

Funny, isn't it. Some people think little of asking a newspaper man to boost their business for nothing, but never ask the merchant for a pair of boots or groceries on the same terms.

Before another Call is issued the last month of the year will be counted on the calendar and yet the sleigh bells are silent.

For the convenience of their clients in and surrounding Gleichen, Messrs. Short, Rose & Selwood, barristers, of Calgary, have decided to open a branch of their law office at Gleichen, where one member of their firm can be consulted on Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning of each week.

W. J. Slater arrived last week from Wishart, Sask., and is renewing acquaintances. He expressed surprise to note the many new buildings in town since his last visit here a little more than a year ago. He reports that at Wishart the crops this year were damaged by frost and when he left there was sleighing. It is his intention to finally locate at Gleichen.

John Wilson, formerly of the Pioneer Meat Market, came in from his ranch north of the Red Deer river last week and remained until yesterday.

Prof. Scott gave a moving picture performance in the hall one night last week. He had a good machine and some of his pictures were splendid, but others were too fast and the passion play was unsuitable for his audience. The professor is a young man and will learn it time.

The Call is now prepared to supply all sizes and rulings for loose leaf ledgers to fit any bindings at Toronto or Montreal prices.

GLEICHEN MERCANTILE Co.

Opposite The Call Office.

While digging to connect the water main and sewerage system at Mr. Lark in's house with his new block the ground caved in Monday and a board struck John Smith, breaking a bone in his shoulder. He is now able to be about again.

The Calgary Eye Opener and The Daily News have had another bout with honors about even. And the end is not yet.

New subscribers can have The Call for $1.50 from now to Dec. 31, 1909.
